

Marijuana Awareness

Marijuana concentration varies from product to product, as do individual reactions.

While many experience relaxation, euphoria and altered senses, others may experience anxiety, paranoia, irregular heart rhythms, disorientation, even psychosis.

The effects of consuming edibles are different and stronger than the effects of smoking marijuana, especially for first time users.

The type and strength of the product, your tolerance, body chemistry and what you've had to eat, all impact effects.

Take it slow! Edibles may take up to 1½ hours to produce effects and last as long as 4 to 8 hours.

People over 50 years of age and/or those with a pre-existing conditions are at greater risk of experiencing undesirable health effects from marijuana.

Take caution if consuming other drugs and/or alcohol when using marijuana.

Do not store your edibles with other food and snacks to avoid unintentional consumption by children or pets.

If you experience undesirable effects from edibles, try to remain calm and relax in a quiet place.

If you have a medical emergency, call 911.
